

VCE practice exam review

Turn a marked paper into a few repairs you can test. Preserve the original attempt; write corrections separately. Use page 2 again whenever you need more log space.

Subject _____ Paper and provider _____ Attempt date _____

Conditions: timed / untimed Notes: used / not used Finished: yes / partly Time taken _____

Interruptions or previously seen questions _____

Marking reference and year _____ Current study design match checked: yes / ask teacher

Review before choosing repairs

Use the matching marking guidance. Flag uncertain marks for your teacher rather than guessing. Review correct guesses and answers you cannot explain as well as incorrect responses. An assessment report may not be a full marking guide.

Name the cause precisely

Knowledge: a concept was missing. Selection: the method did not fit. Interpretation: an instruction was missed. Execution: a step, unit or calculation went wrong. Completion: time or starting the task was difficult. More than one cause can apply.

Worked example with fictional details

This invented example shows how to use the log. It is not a VCAA question, marking rule or real student record.

Question reference	Error cause	Correction or repair	Retry date	Independent check
Invented graph task A	Interpretation: I described one pattern instead of comparing both.	Identify both patterns and the same feature. Write a comparison supported by evidence from each.	Choose a later date	Try a fresh comparison task with notes closed; then check both patterns are covered.

Choose the most useful repairs

Start with two or three recurring or blocking difficulties. For each, plan a small practice task and a fresh independent check before adding another full paper.

Priority skill	Repair and small practice task	What I will attempt independently

VCE practice exam error log

Record the specific slip and the action it needs. Keep full questions and solutions in the original paper. Retry after a gap, with the solution closed, then record what happened.

Subject _____ Paper or topic _____ Review date _____

For the independent check, record the new question reference, actual check date and result: independent / needed help / retry.

Question reference	Error cause	Correction or repair	Retry date	Independent check

What should happen next

Recurring pattern or question to ask my teacher or tutor

Next small practice task _____ Planned date _____

Other questions to return to later _____

If the same difficulty returns, bring the original answer, correction and fresh attempt to your teacher or tutor. Parents can ask which repair needs support. This worksheet is a practical planning aid, not official VCAA marking guidance.
